Four Cs Trust Year 7 Transition Survey on Settling into Secondary School

Dear Parent/Carer

The Four Cs Trust has recently been considering transition from primary to secondary school and the national agenda of inclusion and belonging. To aid this work, and with the fact that your child has recently experienced the move from Year 6 to Year 7, the Four Cs Trust is interested to hear from parents in our schools how this move has been from the child and the family's perspective, how they have settled and if appropriate, what barriers were faced and have they been overcome.

In order to feed into this work with our secondary schools on whether changes in structure, routine and school environment are necessary in the future, the Trust would appreciate you spending a few minutes to provide your feedback by answering the questions on the form link below. There is also a free-text box at the bottom for additional comments on the process of transition generally and how your child has settled.

Four Cs Trust Year 7 Transition Survey on Settling into Secondary School – Fill in form (https://forms.cloud.microsoft/e/CjhLVvQZYK)

Your feedback is invaluable to us and will help inform the experience of both the current and future Year Groups within our secondary schools to ensure a child's happiness and belonging are considered, improving their school experience as a whole and ultimately their educational outcomes, both academically, pastorally and socially.

Although this survey is intended to provide an anonymous response, there are optional questions at the end to gather a name and an email address should you wish to provide this information. This form will close on Friday 27 November and a broad analysis of the response received will be published in a future edition of the Trust newsletter.

Kind regards

The Four Cs
